

EASY LANGUAGES

Spanish

With 407 million native speakers and currently the number three most-spoken language in the world, knowledge of Spanish is nowadays almost as indispensable as English. Whatever your level, expectations, preferred destination, or amount of available time, we will have something for you.

Whether you're looking for a week of ultra-intensive group classes or private business lessons with a teacher, you'll find something crafted perfectly to your needs in one of our schools in Spain or Latin America.

Spain

Small town or big city? University life or the beach? Host family or apartment? As all our programmes are reasonable priced and enticing, the only problem with going to Spain is being overwhelmed by choice!
